Introduction: Rocky Ridge Outpost is a family run business that has three cabins, a yurt, a small fishing pond, pavilion, lawn, and horse stables on site. It is available during the summer months and is less remote than most yurts with such amenities as cable TV and WiFi. Sitting a few miles outside downtown Manila, you can drive right to the property and up to the yurt. Biking trails weave through the mountains surrounding the yurt, and running the Green River is a not-to-miss adventure while you're in Flaming Gorge. The yurt has power outlets and a mini air conditioning unit to keep the summer nights cool. It's more like glamping (glamorous camping). The yurt owners are happy to provide information and ideas for recreation in the area. Also see www.flaminggorgecountry.com.
