

YURT 22 CARTER MILITARY TRAIL YURT

Location: Ashley National Forest; Uintah mountain range; Approximately 25 miles northwest of Vernal Utah near the historic Carter Military road and the Highline trail. This yurt sits out in the middle of nowhere, but sits near a road.

Length: Most approach by vehicle. 25 miles from Vernal.

Elevation: CMT yurt: 9800'

Size: 16 ft. in diameter; sleeps 6

Amenities: One double-size bunk bed/sleeps four: No linens, bedding or pillows are provided. Heavy-duty propane camp stove for cooking, a wood burning stove for heat, and outdoor vault toilet, folding table and folding chairs, basic assortment of pots, pans, dishes and utensils, one portable propane lantern that requires visitors bring propane and mantles.

Introduction: CMT yurt is one of 3 Ashley National Forest yurts in the Uintahs. Unlike most yurts that must be hiked or skied to, this yurt sits on a road. Located "in the middle of nowhere," the yurt still has privacy, but most drive to it. This yurt is not made with the usual canvas, but is instead made of wood with a nice deck around it.

Season: The yurt is open for reservations during the summer and fall months from June 1 to October 31. The yurt is used as a warming station for snowmobilers during the winter from December 1 to May 15 and so is not available to reserve during those months.

Reservations: National Recreation Reservation System www.Recreation.gov; 1-877-444-6777 Reservations can be made 120 days in advance.

Fee: $30

Other: No animals allowed inside the yurt. The facility is a pack-it-in pack-it-out facility. There is no garbage service.

YURTS of UTAH

YURT 23 GRIZZLY RIDGE YURT

Location: Ashley National Forest; Uintah mountain range; Approximately 20 air-miles north of Vernal Utah. Trailheads are off the main highway.

Length: 3 miles from Bassett Springs trailhead to yurt; 4 miles from Little Brush Creek trailhead

Elevation: Bassett Springs trailhead: 8500' ; Little Brush Creek trailhead: 8600'; Grizzly Ridge Yurt – 9200'

Size: 20' in diameter; Sleeps 8 people

Difficulty: Winter – can be difficult if trail is not broken; Summer – Moderate

Amenities: 2 double-size bunk beds. No linens, bedding or pillows are provided. Heavy-duty propane camp stove for cooking, a wood burning stove for heat, and outdoor vault toilet, folding table and folding chairs, basic assortment of pots, pans, dishes and utensils, one portable propane lantern that requires visitors bring propane and mantles.

Introduction: Grizzly Ridge Yurt can be accessed by 2 different trailheads. Both lead through open landscapes, aspen groves, and conifer forests. Snowshoe and Nordic skiing are common ways to access the yurt in the winter months. During non-snow months the yurt can be approached with a high-clearance vehicle equipped with 4WD. Snowmobiles are not allowed on the ski trail to Grizzly Ridge Yurt. This yurt was renovated in 2008, so it's in good condition. Back in the 1960's there used to be a ski tow pommel lift, so backcountry skiing is more likely from this yurt.

Season: Year round; Non-snow season is approximately June 21 – October 31

Reservations: National Recreation Reservation System www.Recreation.gov; 1-877-444-6777 Reservations can be made 120 days in advance.

Fee: $30

Other: No animals are allowed in the yurt. Pack-it-in Pack-it-out: No garbage service is available.

YURTS of UTAH

YURT 24 LIMBER FLAG YURT

Location: Ashley National Forest; Uintah mountain range; Approximately 20 air-miles north of Vernal, Utah

Length: 3 miles from Limber Flag Yurt trailhead

Elevation: Limber Flag Yurt 9200'; Limber Flag Yurt trailhead: 8400'

Size: 20' in diameter; Sleeps 8 people

Difficulty: Moderate

Amenities: 2 double-size bunk beds. No linens, bedding or pillows are provided. Heavy-duty propane camp stove for cooking, a wood burning stove for heat, and outdoor vault toilet, folding table and folding chairs, basic assortment of pots, pans, dishes and utensils, one portable propane lantern that requires visitors bring propane and mantles.

Introduction: The yurt overlooks the entire Uintah Basin. You can see 60 -70 miles across the basin. Snowshoeing and cross-country skiing are the usual winter approach options. If you're willing to hunt for the slope, you can find a backcountry ski slope, but most winter visitors stick to Nordic or snowshoeing. Summer is great for family hang-outs, wild life watching, and hiking trails. ATV approach is possible. Winter is the best time to get away from motorized traffic as the area is closed to snowmobiling.

Season: Year Round; The yurt is open for reservation during the summer and winter months: June 21 – Oct 31 and Dec 1 through April 30th.

Reservations: National Recreation Reservation System www.Recreation.Gov; 1-877-444-6777 Reservations can be made 120 days in advance.

Fee: $30

Other: Snowmobiles are not allowed on the trail to Limber Flag Yurt. No animals allowed inside the yurt. The facility is a pack-it-in pack-it-out facility. There is no garbage service

